

Top 10 Ways to know that you are a Compliance Professional

#10	When you can only come up with nine because you are too busy to come up with 10.
#9	YOSA – (You Only Speak in Acronyms)
#8	When you know that BSA does not stand for "Boy Scouts of America."
#7	When you have more "toolboxes" in your office than your mechanic.
#6	When you are the only one in your bank that knows that the annual flu shot will not stop you from catching a case of FIRREA.
#5	When you catch yourself singing the second verse of the alphabet song to your preschooler (AA, BB, CC, DD, EE).
#4	When your idea of extreme adventure is "Riding the Reg O Rapids," "Spotting Alligators in the Swamp," and fighting the "HMDA Dragon."
#3	When you have been diagnosed with CRADD: Compliance Related Attention Deficit Disorder. (See this article for symptoms of this horrid malady: http://www.bankersonline.com/compliance/mbg_crdd.html )
#2	When you look at a draft of your Community Reinvestment Act Program, and think, "Yup, CRAP is a good name for it."
#1	When you realize that the regulators only need to come up with an "H" in order to complete the connection between CAMELS and IT.